Know what's on BC's mind.

METHODOLOGY

The survey was conducted online with 1,555 British Columbia business leaders, from October 8th to November 4th, 2019. Business members were invited to participate through email by local chambers of commerce and from those who are members of BC MindReader.com.

The margin of error for a comparable probability-based random sample of the same size is +/- 2.53%, 19 times out of 20.

The data were weighted according to census data to ensure that the sample matched British Columbia's business distribution by region. Totals may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

Province-wide Highlights

1. THE SAMPLE? WOMEN ARE CHIMING IN.

Out of this year's almost 1600 respondents, 54% were female. Of the total sample, 63% identified as entrepreneurs and 26% said they sell outside of Canada.

2. ARE BUSINESSES CONFIDENT IN THEMSELVES? THEY'RE MAKING DO.

Business optimism remains steady compared to previous years – and, the number of people saying their prospects are getting worse is smaller than last year. Businesses are making do – most feel confident about their business when it comes to what is in their control, and are working hard to blaze a trail towards success.

3. ARE BUSINESSES CONFIDENT IN THE BC ECONOMY? SPLIT OPINION.

Confidence in the BC economy hasn't changed much year-over-year with 49% of business indicating it has worsened (same as last year) – but BC businesses have less confidence in the Canadian and Global economy. Trade headwinds with the United States and China lead as the drivers of global concern this year – old, reliable trade partners and new potential partners are both destabilizing the global order. As a small open economy, BC is feeling that the world is less settled and less predictable.

4. THE COST OF DOING BUSINESS IN BC? STILL A TOP PAIN POINT.

Overall, “Cost of Doing Business” still tops the list of conditions impacting businesses. Just under 4 out of 5 businesses (77%) say the cost of doing business has worsened. Cost of labour (67%), availability of workers (55%) and skills of labour pool (52%) have been an increased challenge for business over the past year. The mood of business in relation to the headwinds they face is not necessarily great – but it’s not what it was last year.

5. IS THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT SUPPORTIVE OF BUSINESS? SENTIMENT IS RALLYING BUT NOT CLOSE TO 2016 LEVELS.

Attitudes towards the provincial government supporting business are slowly rebounding (in 2019 54% of businesses say they “Agree” that the provincial government is generally supporting of business which is up 6 points from 2018) – but sentiment still hasn’t returned to 2016 levels when almost 4 out of 5 of businesses said they felt supported by the provincial government. We are seeing the reverse trend with the federal government.

6. WHERE ARE THE WORKERS? OWNER/OPERATORS ARE STARTING TO BURN OUT.

Labour availability is a huge issue – led by the shortage in housing for workers. As a result of labour challenges, BC business owners are making personal sacrifices to preserve their businesses – with 56% saying they are working longer hours before cutting output, laying off staff, reducing wages/benefits. Twenty-five percent of businesses report that labour shortages have affected their profitability.

7. CLIMATE CHANGE IS A CHALLENGE & OPPORTUNITY FOR BUSINESS.

The majority of business (37%) reported climate change presents both “challenges and problems for my business” AND opportunities. BC businesses are embracing fixes and solutions to climate change – often regardless of government incentive, however, there is lots of support for government to take initiative in this area. Fifty-nine percent believe their business is as green and clean as it should be whereas 41% feel they need to reduce their environmental impacts.

8. TRADE WITH CHINA? AN OPPORTUNITY ...BUT PROCEED WITH CAUTION.

Feelings about China are more hesitant and mixed compared to last year. Just over half (51%) of business are open to more trade with China but caution against too deep a relationship.

9. BC'S BUSINESS COMMUNITY IS LEADING THE WAY IN CANADA.

Abacus Data notes that BC is at the forefront of Canadian provinces in understanding both the benefits and challenges of widescale economic and social change. Lots of new things are happening in BC that aren't happening to the same degree elsewhere (when it comes to the environment, labour, immigration, technology and desire for density). Seventy-five percent of respondents consider themselves to be progressive (as opposed to small 'c' conservative), 73% like risk (don't loath it) and 80% consider themselves future oriented (as opposed to old school). Sixty-eight percent feel well positioned for a younger, millennial influenced Canada.

10. TAX CUTS? BALANCE THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PILLARS.

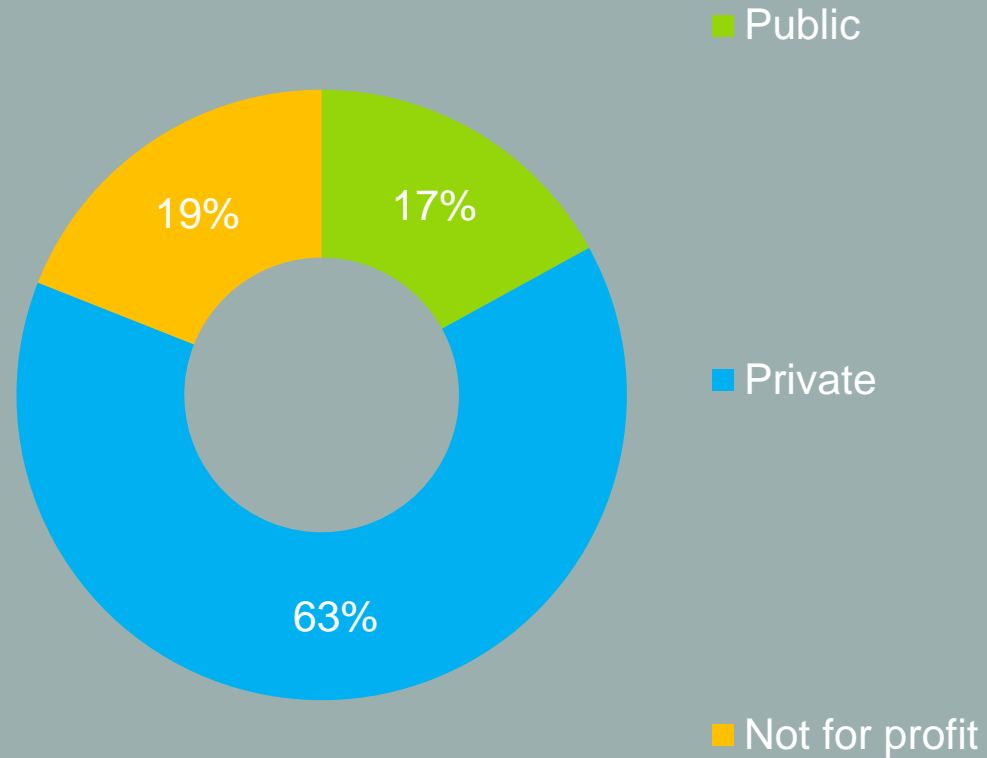

Though 45% of businesses said their BC taxes have worsened and 30% say BC should match tax cuts to the US to ensure competitiveness – the BC business community wants balance to ensure dependable funding for health, education, and infrastructure, key inputs for thriving businesses in the modern economy.
